ASSOCIATE OF THE MONTH

Latoya Brewington

We are excited to recognize an associate whose 8-year journey reflects dedication, growth, and continuous improvement. Latoya Brewington began as a production associate before advancing to line lead in multiple departments, and now working in Quality Assurance. As a QA Tech, Latoya goes above and beyond to ensure thorough testing and a commitment to quality. Throughout her career, she has consistently shown a willingness to learn and take on new challenges. She believes in always working to strengthen her skills, and setting a strong example for those around her. Her advice to new hires is simple—know what you're coming here for, an opportunity to grow and go further. Outside of work, she enjoys shopping, spending time with family, dancing, and attending church. We appreciate her dedication and the positive example she sets for those around her.

*Rashakia
Martin*

We are proud to recognize Rashakia Martin as our Associate of the Month. Rashakia brings 12 years of experience in the poultry industry. Whether tackling challenging projects or stepping in to support others, she is known for her strong dedication to teamwork and consistency. She goes above and beyond in every task, demonstrating outstanding attention to detail, reliability, and a sincere commitment to helping both the process and her teammates. Her reliability and steady work ethic make her someone her team can always count on. Outside of work, she enjoys listening to music which helps her recharge and stay motivated. We are proud to recognize her extraordinary dedication, and consistent contributions to our team's success. Please join us in congratulating her on this well-deserved recognition!
